

If I roll two six-sided dice there are 36 possible combinations.

True

For each possible number on the first roll there are 6 corresponding possibilities on the second roll.