

Art – Lesson 4

Paul Klee – The Circulatory System

Paul Klee studied nature and was particularly interested in branching forms of plants, organ systems and waterways. He explored the circulatory system, sketching the movement of blood from stage to stage in the body. Using whatever materials or tools you have available. Have a go at recreating Paul Klee's artwork – The Circulatory System.

Draw the Circulatory System